SUMMARY

Psalm 127 is a wisdom psalm. It teaches us that God blesses his people in different ways and at different times. In this psalm we learn that without the Lord's blessing, all of our work comes to nothing. But this psalm is not about having the Lord's blessing instead of us working, but rather having the Lord's blessing upon our work.

When God blesses His people, this helps them to serve Him and others, which causes us to bring glory to God. Seeking God's blessing upon our lives and work is something we must always do. For no amount of hard work can achieve what only God's blessing can bring.
